

TENK Tech Camp Wins At 2024 Digital Revolution Awards

TENK Tech Camp is delighted to announce that we have won the 2024 Digital Revolution Award for Tech For Good. Our win was announced live on this year's global broadcast hosted by Tenth Revolution Group President Zoë Morris and Chief Marketing Officer Kashif Naqshbandi.

The Tech for Good award recognizes organizations using the power of cloud technology to make the world a better place and bring hope and joy to people across the globe. In particular, the Digital Revolution Awards judging panel commended us for our efforts to support girls and young women into tech.

Founded in 2020 to spotlight all facets of tech excellence, from digital transformations to leading diversity and inclusion initiatives, the Digital Revolution Awards is organized annually by global tech talent experts Tenth Revolution Group.

As a not-for-profit initiative, the Digital Revolution Awards is an occasion for celebration and community, bringing together businesses and individuals from across the sector and raising money for St. Martin's School in Nairobi, Kenya as well as the UK's Teenage Cancer Trust.

For full details on our win as well as this year's other winners, or to find out how you can get involved in 2025's Digital Revolution Awards click here.