Cyviz awarded contract for standardized multipurpose collaboration center to energy company in the Middle East - NOK 7 million (USD 832k)

January 28, 2021

Cyviz announces a new contract with a world-leading energy company in the Middle East. The multipurpose collaboration space is designed to engage teams across disciplines using high-performance visualization and is built on the standardized Cyviz platform to connect with other critical rooms.

The energy company recognizes the benefits of standardizing its solutions for conference rooms, collaboration technology and operations centers. In addition to the new multipurpose collaboration center, the company has previously rolled out Cyviz' solutions for their real-time drilling operations center, experience center and a range of conference rooms.

“We are pleased to sign this new contract in the Middle East and to see that the energy sector is well underway with investments in a new standardized way of collaborating using the Cyviz Easy Platform,” says CEO Espen Gylvik.

The Cyviz Easy Platform ensures effective deployment, management and reliable user experiences. It effectively connects the different rooms and enables the delivery of remote support and monitoring to ensure the rooms' availability at any given time.
