Magnora presenting at Pareto Securities' Energy conference

1.9.2021 07:00:00 CEST | Magnora ASA | Non-regulatory press releases

September 1, 2021: Magnora ASA and Evolar AB will participate on Pareto Securities' 28th annual Energy Conference. CEO Erik Sneve and founder and Chief Strategy Officer, professor Lars Stolt in Evolar AB, will present on Wednesday 16 or Thursday 17 of September 2021 at a time to be determined soon, and the presentation material will be made available on Magnora's website the same day.

PARETO CONFERENCE

The Pareto Securities Energy Conference is the largest of its kind in Europe with more than 100 presenting companies and some 2,500 participating investors and industry professionals.

The participating companies represent the full breadth of the energy industry – from the traditional Oil and Gas producers to renewable energy developers and producers. The complete value chains are represented with everything from equipment manufacturers to end-user distribution – including marine transportation. Energy transition and new business opportunities will be key themes and companies taking a leading role in this development are also participating.
