Bricknode and Huddlestock today announced that a Swedish asset management firm has selected its cloud investment management system and managed services to power its operations.

The asset manager is a licenced securities firm providing tailored investments and portfolio management to private and institutional investors.

By selecting Bricknode's cloud investment management system, Bricknode Broker, the asset manager will be able to streamline its operations using a single platform. Bricknode Broker provides extensive investment management operations support including onboarding, client management, order execution and settlement, reconciliation management, corporate actions management and regulatory compliance.

The asset manager has also opted to use Bricknode and Huddlestock's managed services, where administration of the platform is outsourced to Bricknode and Huddlestock's team of experts.

The asset management firm's CEO comments: "We see technology as one of the biggest drivers of innovation and growth in the asset management sector. By implementing a modern cloud investment management system with outsourced administration, we're able to operate with efficiency and scale, while focusing on our customers."

Erik Hagelin, Chief Strategy Officer at Huddlestock, adds: "This asset manager is a great example of a company embracing technology and positioning themselves for the best long-term success. Asset managers are having to adapt to changing customer needs and market conditions, and with our platform they can easily scale their operations and capitalise on new opportunities."

The deal is expected to add annual recurring revenues of between SEK 600.000 – 1.000.000 during the first year. Bricknode will begin the onboarding process with the asset management firm next week.
